

Right royal occasion as Lymm May celebrates Queen's Platinum

IT was a right royal occasion for the 130th Lymm May Queen Festival with a theme to celebrate the Queen's Platinum Jubilee.

This year's May Queen was Fay Griffiths while the Rose Queen was Lilly Raftery. Thousands of people turned out to support the event in the village enjoying the parade and events on the May Queen field.

It also marked the final official event of the year for the first citizen and Mayor of Warrington Cllr Maureen Creaghan, who handed over her chains of office recently.

The Lymm May Queen parade involving villagers and local school children and community organisations was led through the village by Town Crier Peter Powell.

A note of thanks to all those who give up their time organising the event too, led by the local Cllr Kath Buckley, Chair of the organising committee.

MAY QUEEN

As chair of Lymm May Queen, I would like to thank all those who showed their support towards another successful Lymm May Queen.

After a challenging year we hope that our festival gave a lift and cheer to our village celebrating the Queen's Jubilee. It is a privilege once again to be chair of this significant and historic event and I would like to thank the committee who make this event happen!
